1 Introduction

1.1 The British Red Cross helps millions of people in the UK and around the world to prepare for, respond to and recover from emergencies, disasters and conflicts.

1.2 We aim to put people in crisis at the heart of all that we do. We are accountable to all our stakeholders: to the people who use our services, both in the UK and overseas; to the people who run those services, our valued staff and volunteers; and to the people who fund them.

1.3 This Transparency and Accountability policy sets out how we will voluntarily publish information relating to our structure and operations, to enhance transparency and enable our stakeholders to evaluate our performance. The policy also details how we will respond to ad hoc information requests.

Definitions

1.4 The following definition of transparency from global governance NGO One World Trust has been used as a guide during the formulation of this policy: “transparency is the provision of accessible and timely information to key stakeholders and the opening up of organisational procedures, structures and processes to their assessment”.¹

2  Policy statement

Purpose and aims

2.1 This policy details our undertaking to:

> Voluntarily publish and release information in the public interest, except for sensitive information on limited grounds (section 5.3.1-2).

> Demonstrate accountability to our stakeholders for how we use resources (financial and otherwise) to deliver the objectives set out in our corporate strategy, including in our annual Trustee Report and Accounts.

> Meet our own internal standards (including our values and the Behaviours Framework) to be transparent about our processes and accountable for our actions as we put people in crisis at the heart of what we do.

> Provide funders with relevant information to support their evaluation and reporting. We have been and continue to publish data on all of our international grants (including from the UK’s Department of International Development) on the publicly accessible International Aid Transparency Initiative registry (http://www.iatiregistry.org).

> Respond to ad hoc requests for information. We recognise and value the opportunity to share information with people and organisations who donate, interested members of the public; and the press.

Scope

2.2 As a charitable organisation, the British Red Cross is not generally subject to the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (UK). However, in circumstances where the organisation is delivering services through contract and on behalf of public sector partners, we recognise that information we hold in relation to these services may be subject to freedom of information requests. Any such cases will be dealt with in line with the legislation and through public sector partners.

2.3 Please note this policy does not cover our obligations under the Data Protection Act 2018 (UK) – please see the separate Data Protection Policy.

3  Principles guiding our approach

3.1 The British Red Cross recognises that we operate in an environment where there is increasing scrutiny across the breadth of our operations. This includes how we raise, direct and use our resources as we put people in crisis at the heart of what we do; as well as when we deliver services under contract to public authorities.

3.2 Given the interest of stakeholders in evaluating our delivery of services to people in crisis and to promote a climate of greater transparency, we have sought to identify key documents and reports with a view to enable assessments to be made about our operations and performance. Appendix 1 sets out documents we will publish to provide our stakeholders with the necessary data to evaluate our performance, and in the interests of transparency.
3.3 As an additional measure of transparency, we have also set out in Appendix 1 the external standards and codes of conduct that we have committed to.

3.4 As a general principle the British Red Cross will endeavour to release information in the interests of transparency unless there is a good reason for us not to do so. This principle also applies to ad hoc information requests.

3.5 The British Red Cross will, however, not release information if it will:

- Jeopardise the safety and security of our people, those who use our services or our operations;
- Breach legal or confidentiality requirements; or
- Cause detriment to our operations on commercial sensitivity grounds.
- Further details on ad hoc requests for information are set out in Section 5.

4 Documents we will voluntarily publish

4.1 As part of our commitment to transparency and accountability, through this policy we commit to voluntarily publish the documents on the British Red Cross website (redcross.org.uk) listed in Appendix 1.

4.2 We will publish evaluation documents in accordance with our evaluation policy.

5 Approach to ad hoc requests

5.1 In addition to the information which we will voluntarily publish, this policy also sets out our approach to responding to ad hoc requests through various channels, including our website, email and phone calls to our information lines.

5.2 Our Information Classification Policy sets out the categories of information we hold, which will also apply to how we will respond to ad hoc requests.

- Level 0 (public) information: will be disclosed immediately.
- Level 1 (internal use) information: will be assessed as to whether it can be released in the interests of transparency and accountability. This may require redaction of parts of documents. Authorisation of release of Level 1 information must come from Heads of Department or Service (Level 6 staff or above), and a record of the decision must be kept centrally – please send notification to the Information Governance team: IG@redcross.org.uk.
- Level 2 (confidential) information: will only be disclosed if formally agreed by a member of the Executive Leadership Team or required by law. Any personal or confidential information covered by the Data Protection Act 2018 (UK) (i.e. that which identifies a living person) is considered Level 2 information. A record of the decision must be kept centrally – please send notification to the Information Governance team: IG@redcross.org.uk.
5.3 In deciding whether the information can be released, the decision maker will use the following criteria:

> We will not release information in accordance with the criteria in section 3.5.

> Consistent with transparency guidance from the International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies (IFRC), we reserve the right to limit sharing of some information to protect the integrity and effectiveness of internal control, administration and management processes.

> We also reserve the right to refuse vexatious requests; those which would result in considerable cost (including staff time), and therefore divert resources away from our charitable aims; and any repeated requests.

6 Responsibilities

6.1 This policy has been approved by the Board of Trustees, who maintains responsibility for our overall commitment to transparency and accountability.

6.2 The Chief Executive is the member of the Executive Leadership Team who is responsible for this policy on behalf of the Board, and will lead the organisation in a manner that encourages transparency and accountability.

6.3 The Executive Leadership Team is responsible for championing this policy and approach to transparency and accountability within their areas of responsibility.

6.4 The Corporate Policy Manager is the policy lead and is responsible for developing and reviewing the policy; developing an internal communications plan for the policy; and managing queries about the policy on a day-to-day basis.

6.5 All staff are expected to be familiar and comply with this policy in their work.

7 Laws and regulations

7.1 Whilst the British Red Cross as a registered charity is generally not subject to the provisions of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (UK), this policy has been developed with the principles of the Freedom of Information Act in mind.

7.2 We are committed to meeting our obligations under the Data Protection Act 2018 (UK), and our Data Protection Policy sets out how we will abide by the principles of data protection. In summary this means:

> We will only use personal data in ways relevant to carrying out our legitimate purposes and functions as a charitable organisation;

> We will take due care in the collection and storage of all personal and sensitive data; and

> We will work to ensure that our people understand their responsibilities under the legislation when processing data.

8 Review and maintenance

8.1 We will keep the list of documents to be published under active review.
8.2 This policy is next due for review in July 2022.
8.3 An equality impact assessment has been completed on this policy.

Our external reporting commitments

> We publish data on all our international grants (including from the UK’s Department of International Development) on the publicly accessible International Aid Transparency Initiative registry (iatiregistry.org).

> We publish a register of persons with a significant influence or control (a PSC Register) over our commercial arm, Britcross.

  o Consistent with the Companies Act 2006 (UK) and People with Significant Control Regulations 2016 (UK), the PSC Register for Britcross forms part of the annual Completion Statement and is publicly accessible at Companies House; and made available on request.

> Consistent with the Modern Slavery Act 2015 (UK), we publish on the main page of our website an annual slavery and human trafficking statement.

> We also commit to voluntarily publish our National Health Service Information Governance Toolkit scores.

Our commitment to quality standards and domestic codes of conduct

> Duty of Candour

  o The Care Quality Commission has a requirement under the Health and Social Care Act 2008, Regulations 2014 (UK) that for regulated services delivered in England and Wales that we adopt a ‘Duty of Candour’ urging transparency and clear dialogue if a serious incident occurs during care or treatment. The Scottish Government also requires publication of Duty of Candour statistics (for incidents in Scotland).

  o As we see this as best practice, the Duty of Candour has been introduced as a requirement across all of services in all our work in the UK (including regulated and non-regulated activity), and incorporated into relevant internal policies.

> Fit and Proper Persons requirement

  o We annually confirm through declarations that our leadership (including the Board, Executive Leadership Team and nominated individuals managing regulated services) are fit to hold high office and to discharge their responsibilities in effectively managing our organisation. As well as meeting external regulations on the ‘Fit and Proper Persons’, this ensures our own internal standards (including in our policies) are met.
Fundraising Regulation

- We are members of the Fundraising Regulator and follow its Code of Fundraising Practice, which ensures that organisations raising money from the public do so in an honest and proper way.

Information Commissioner’s Office (ICO) undertaking

- We have voluntarily signed an undertaking with the ICO affirming the organisation’s commitment to best practice in our telephone fundraising.

National Council of Voluntary Organisation (NCVO)’s Charity Ethical Principles

- We are committed to NCVO’s Charity Ethical Principles. This policy confirms how we fulfil the principle of openness.
- We will operate a presumption of openness and transparency, subject to the legal and regulatory requirements set out above; and endeavour to make our information accessible.

Press Complaints Commission Code of Practice

- The Code sets the benchmark for ethical standards around public interest, aiming to protect the rights of the individual and the public’s right to know. It covers 16 areas, such as accuracy, privacy and the opportunity to reply.

Our commitment to international codes of conduct

IFRC Code of Conduct; and ICRC Code of Conduct

- In addition to the British Red Cross Code of Conduct, our staff operating internationally are required to sign and follow the IFRC’s Code of Conduct; and colleagues seconded into or working for the ICRC are required to sign and follow the ICRC’s Code of Conduct.

Core Humanitarian Standards (CHS) on Quality and Accountability

- The CHS set out nine commitments that organisations and individuals involved in humanitarian response should use to improve the quality and effectiveness of the assistance provided.

European Voluntary Service Charter

- The Charter sets out a range of principles and quality standards, including ensuring our international volunteers are involved in the full training cycle (including mid-term meetings and the final evaluation).

The Code of Conduct for the International Red Cross and Red Crescent Movement and NGOs in Disaster Response

- A voluntary code for organisations working in emergency assistance comprising ten principles, including that the humanitarian imperative comes first; and that we hold ourselves accountable to both those we seek to assist and those from whom we accept resources.
