It is not your fault

Abuse can happen to anyone regardless of gender, sexual identity, age, ethnic groups, nationality, culture, religion, disability, economic status or location.

Using abusive and controlling behaviour is never acceptable. You have the right to protection from abuse and violence and access to justice and support in all European countries.

Remember: you are not alone and you are not the person to blame for the abuse/violence you are experiencing!

Do you feel safe?

- Are you often afraid of someone or a member of your family?
- Have you ever been hit, kicked, shoved, punched, bitten, choked, spat at or had things thrown at you by anyone?
- Does anyone demean you, threaten to hurt you or put you down consistently?
- Has anyone been using fear, intimidation, threats and/or name calling to hurt and control you?
- Do you have to ask anyone permission to spend your money, going out or socialise with your friends and family members?
- Does anyone ever threaten to hurt your children or to take them away from you?
- Does anyone ever touch you in a way you don’t want to be touched?
- Are you or do you ever feel pressured to have sex with your partner or someone else against your will?
- Has anyone ever destroyed your belongings in order to control or scare you?
- Is somebody deprived you of your passport or other important documents?
- Have you been blackmailed by anyone and are you afraid to seek help?
- Are you getting married against your will?

If you answer yes to any of the following questions, you might be in an abusive and controlling relationship or situation.
